WESLEYAN

MURMURMONTIS

1960

Buckhannon, West Virginia

Expansion

With a total enrollment of approximately one thousand twenty-five students, expansion has become one of the key words at Wesleyan this year. In spite of this rapid increase in numbers, the college is attempting to maintain the ideal student-faculty ratio—seventeen to one. An important step in this direction was taken this year with the addition of twenty-three new members to the faculty and staff.

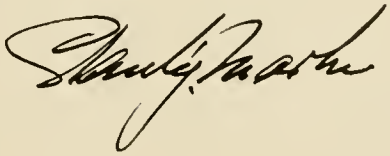
Wesleyan lies in the foothills of the Alleghenies not far from the geographical center of the state. The town of Buckhannon, provincial in appearance and possessing a collegiate atmosphere, provides a minimum of the basic essentials for college life. Though relatively remote geographically, the academic level of the school is among the highest in the state of West Virginia.

Though the college is an affiliate institution of the Methodist Church, the student body is cosmopolitan in its religious outlook. Socially, the college community is casual, friendly, and liberal, in keeping with the way of life of the small college.

By means of this continued expansion, physically as well as academically and socially, the attitude of Wesleyan has changed from the apathetic to the enthusiastic.

The President

Shakespeare once said: "what's past is prologue," and I think of this quotation as I consider the future of Wesleyan. Since its founding seventy years ago, the college has made tremendous growth in size, quality and scope, and yet "the best is yet to be." A look to the past fills one with appreciation and admiration, but the look to the future is filled with inspiration and expectation. To help chart this future, then, becomes one of my privileged responsibilities, and I cherish the opportunity to work with all who wish the best for Wesleyan.



Foreword

The staff of the 1960 MURMURMONTIS has attempted to give to the reader of this publication an accurate account of the people and events taking part in the 1960 academic year at West Virginia Wesleyan College.

OUR IMAGE, the IMAGE of Wesleyan as it has been known to its associates, is the theme of the 1960 annual and the purpose of the staff is to present the school as it was in the past, is in the present, and will be in the future. Wesleyan's IMAGE is varied and cannot be summarized by a few words and pictures. It is the total Wesleyan, not only the tangible persons and objects that give the college its character; it includes as well the very spirit which distinguishes Wesleyan for those who know it from the multitude of those colleges which are so similar. The Wesleyan of tomorrow, we trust, will still support the tenets which are important in the IMAGE of today s Wesleyan.

Dedication

ARTHUR ALLEN SCHOOLCRAFT, 1897-1959, B.A., LL.D., Marietta College; S.T.B., Ph.D., Boston University; Professor, Dean, Registrar, twice acting President of West Virginia Wesleyan College.

Scholar, educator, leader and friend—to such a man is the 1960 MURMURMONTIS dedicated. He, as much as any other person, influenced the true image of Wesleyan, not only during the years when he was a familiar figure to the campus community, but for many years in the future will his ideals continue to mold and direct the image of the school. Dr. Arthur Allen Schoolcraft, serving Wesleyan from 1930 until his death in February 1959, is an example of the devotion, courage, and hard work that have made West Virginia Wesleyan College the growing and respected institution that it is today.

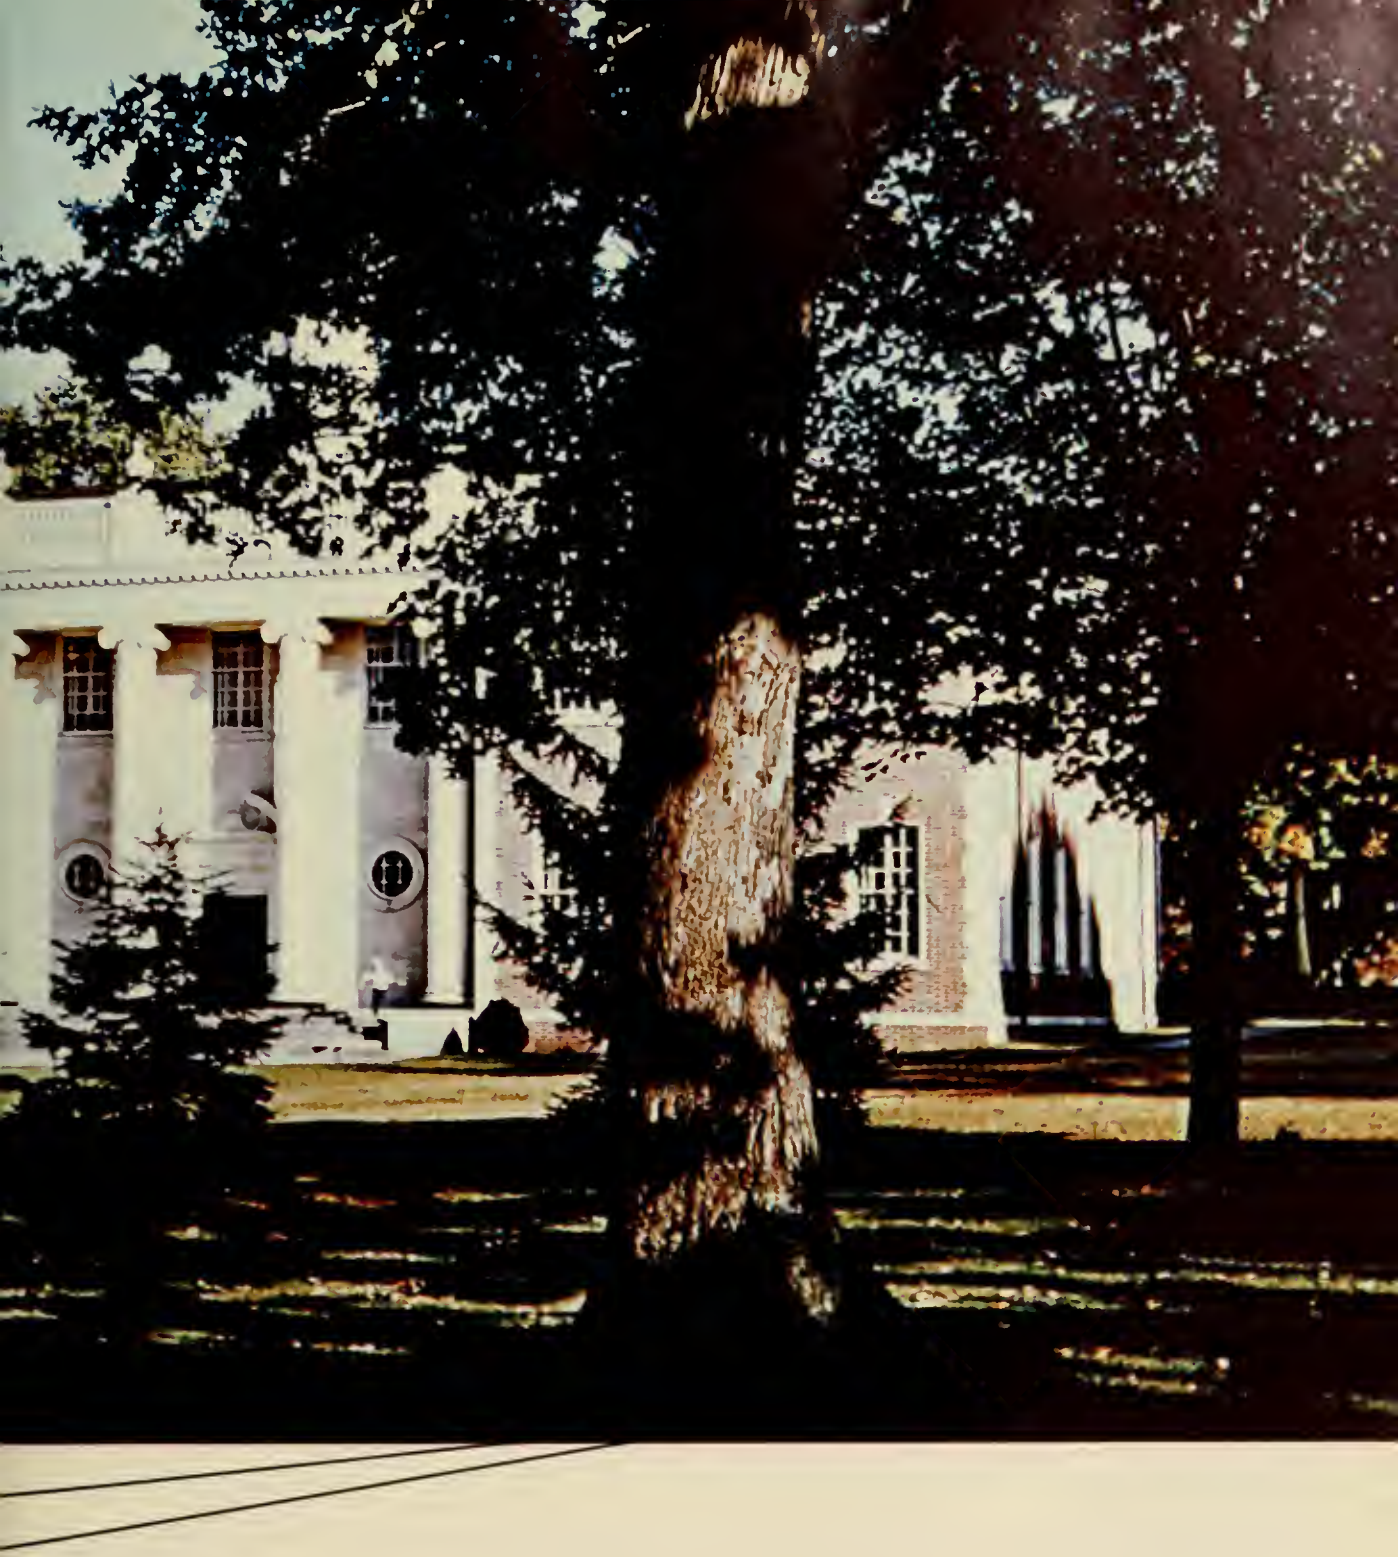
Our Image

The IMAGE of Wesleyan, a vague term wanting of definition, is relative with regard to the person, circumstance, and objects involved in the judgment. The Wesleyan IMAGE can be readily seen only by those who have had some personal contact with its heritage, its people, its atmosphere, both academic and social, and its devotion to learning and education. The struggles and conflicts of developing a religious faith not inconsistent with intellectual reason and the sciences can be understood only by those who have had such experience. The IMAGE of Wesleyan can be traced even deeper to completely intangible and unobservable attitudes and feelings prominent in the minds of those who look to their college as the guardian of the future. The spirit created by the minds of great teachers and administrators leaves a lasting imprint upon those who intend to further the development of knowledge for generations to come. The virtues of understanding and toleration so necessary for successful social living are instilled into unforgetting minds as a result of the college experience.

In addition to these seemingly unnoticeable elements of life at Wesleyan, there remain through the years the familiar tree-covered campus, the same well-known buildings, the wearing concrete walks, and the never-ceasing activities of young people. All of these familiar portions of college life combine to form the IMAGE of West Virginia Wesleyan College.



Administration and Faculty

Within Wesleyan, the Administration and Faculty guide the daily life of the college and the student. The governing body is the Board of Trustees which meets at Homecoming and again in the spring. President Martin is directly responsible to the Board of Trustees. The Treasurer, Vice-President, Deans, etc., are among the President's constituents. The Faculty works closely with the Administration in order to produce the end results which are a part of OUR Wesleyan IMAGE.

These are the people serving the college who are responsible for the administrative and academic aspects of West Virginia Wesleyan—the Administration and Faculty.

Board of Trustees

Executive Council

Within the past fiscal year the Executive Council 1959-60 pictured above has directed the affairs and business of Wesleyan's Board of Trustees. The Board has approved the new campus plan which is a complete renovation of the campus directed to be completed in the future. The ground breaking ceremony for the New Men's Residence Hall was performed in April and this event signifies the current Wesleyan practice of "a building every two years."

Vice President

The financing of a college and the resources a college draws from is the duty of our Vice-President, James I. Ling. The tremendous expansion within the scope of the Wesleyan IMAGE in financial matters is under the experienced eye of Mr. Ling. He also directed the fund raising program that provided college growth following World War II.

James I. Ling

James Stansbury

Director of Alumni Affairs

The Alumni are essential to the backing of a college both in spirit and in finance. James Stansbury, as Director of Alumni Affairs and Assistant to the President, is responsible for the successful co-ordination of Wesleyan Alumni and the scattered Alumni Associations throughout the Eastern Area. It is the successful co-ordination of these associations that James Stansbury has successfully directed this year.

Treasurer

Receiving student tuitional fees, room and board costs, and payments of general college bills are some of the treasurer's duties. Mr. Heyward Williams, since it is he who receives the college income, is also responsible for directing the successful operation of the college's fiscal budget. With the expansion of Wesleyan's facilities, the growing duties of the treasurer widen and become involved and detailed. As the expansion plans of the Board of Trustees materialize, the importance of successful financial operation of the college increases—the next addition to the monetary responsibility being the additions to the men's residence accommodations.

Heyward Williams

William B. Hicks

Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds

One of the busiest and most diversified men on the administrative staff is the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, Mr. William B. Hicks. Formerly serving in the capacity of college business manager, Mr. Hicks is directly responsible for the complete maintenance of the buildings on campus, the mail distribution, the moving of equipment, and the allocation of supplies. In addition, he works with the Traffic committee in registering vehicles and enforcing traffic regulations of the campus. He is responsible for the entire maintenance staff and for the operation of the audio-visual aids equipment. Serving as financial advisor to the Pharos and the MURMURMONTIS, Mr. Hicks truly has a wide scope of activity.

Patton L. Nickell

Registrar

Since the beginning of the school year, Patton Nickell, in his duties as registrar, has handled registration details, the keeping of permanent records, and the scheduling of classes. This is the first year that Wesleyan has had the benefit of a full-time registrar.

Director of Admissions

Traveling for the college as a representative in recruiting students is the duty of Mr. Kiser as the Director of Admissions. During the year, his office has had to process the applications of prospective students. With the help of his staff his office sends to prospective students information relating to Wesleyan's opportunities and requirements.

Raymond W. Kiser

DEANS . . . COLLEGE, STUDENTS, WOMEN, AND MEN

Orlo Strunk, A.B., S.T.B., Ph.D.
Dean of the College

Richard Cunningham, B.S., Ed.M.
Dean of Students

The system of four Deans is new this year at Wesleyan. The duty of Dean Strunk, as Dean of the College, is to co-ordinate and plan the curriculum of Wesleyan. He is directly responsible to the President and the Board of Trustees for the academic rating and functions of Wesleyan. Dean Cunningham's office is a new one on campus this year. He is responsible for the conduct and counseling of the student body. Dean Wilson and Dean Shaver work with Dean Cunningham serving as Dean of Women and Dean of Men respectively.

Classes

Throughout this year, the progression of students through their daily classes benefited Wesleyan by the contribution they left to the school.

The crowded quarters of our student union show the absence of real class barriers at Wesleyan. No senior has preference over a freshman or sophomore, and no freshman is excluded from the circles in which the upperclassmen move, for the whole school exists as a unit in which each small part is important.

Though it is the people who compose the college community that are responsible for its true IMAGE, the places wherein these people assemble to learn and prepare themselves for meeting the challenge of the world form an important and enduring part of the IMAGE of Wesleyan. These halls of learning are standing the test of generations whose efforts have proved their sojourn therein to be of honor to their alma mater. Such monuments of the lasting IMAGE of Wesleyan remain throughout the months, the seasons, the years as silent witnesses to the trials, pleasures and benefits which are derived from the many hours spent within their halls and classrooms.

Spring weather makes indoor practicing difficult at Loar Hall.

Autumn marks the beginning of another year's classes in the Administration building.

Snow and winter go hand in hand and make these halls and walks very beautiful.

Student Leadership

From a student body of individual personalities, we elect a few as our leaders. Chosen for their contributions to campus life, friendliness, willingness, and perseverance in work, they fulfill their duties by representing the views of the student body and by working for the betterment of college living.

These Community Council officers and committeemen, class officers, and members of the several house governing boards combine their initiative and influence to become the driving force in campus student government.

Community Council

"We, the members of the campus community of West Virginia Wesleyan College, recognizing the need for an inclusive and efficient form of college government, and the democratic possibilities of a community government wherein students, faculty, and administration work side by side, do institute this constitution and dedicate ourselves to the realization of the objectives of our college through its faithful execution."

Another session of Wesleyan's student government, the Community Council, opens each Wednesday evening in the Home Economics room at 7:00. Due to faults found in the constitution, this year the council, with a special committee, has undergone the task of re-writing the present constitution. As the representatives are elected by the student body, they find it both an honor and a privilege to carry out the responsibilities given to them.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL PRESIDENT
Alfred Moye

Senior Representatives: James Hastings, Gordon MacQueen, Kenneth Roberts

Junior Representatives: Lynn Westfall, David Damaska, Jane Reemsnyder

Sophomore Representatives: Samuel Starling, Joan Hardy, Barbara Clark

Freshman Representatives: Jean Beatty, Harry Campbell, Ruth Ellen Ott

Faculty Representatives: Dr. William Willis, Mrs. Esther McAllester

Administration Members: President Martin, Dean Strunk, Dean Cunningham

PUBLICATIONS COMMITTEE: Libby Teter, Tom Salata, Pat Schenerlein, Jim Harbert.

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE: Mary Chen, Dean Patenaude, Mary Jo Herndon.

Community Council Committees

The Community Council functions through its thirteen separate committees. These committees, though responsible to the Council, carry on specific duties for the benefit of the entire campus. The Awards Committee is in charge of ordering the trophies and awards for the various competitions during the year. The assemblies and special cultural programs are the responsibility of the Cultural Enrichment Committee. The campus has three main student edited publications; the Publications Committee is the co-ordinator for these—the handbook, the weekly newspaper, and the yearbook.

AWARDS COMMITTEE: Phyllis Keene, Carolyn Mullens, Nancy Burruss.

The SCOW Committee, the Council's busiest committee, coordinates much of the campus social and extracurricular program in addition to supervising and directing the affairs of the Student Center. The Social Activities Committee is responsible for the policy, the scheduling and the supervision of all campus social events. It is responsible for the assigning of calendar dates for organizations and programs. The Traffic Committee, the Council's newest committee, has the difficult responsibility of enforcing college regulations concerning ownership and operation of automobiles while attending Wesleyan.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE: Carolyn Moore, Don Lindstrom, Jane Griffin.

TRAFFIC COMMITTEE—Row one: Margo Brookover Joe Tereshko; Row two: Jim Hawkins, Dale Crouser.

The Religious Life Emphasis Committee, a subcommittee of the Religious Life Council, is in charge of religious emphasis on campus. The World University Service Committee is responsible for the preparation and direction of all World University Service projects. The Conduct Committee deals with all matters of student conduct having campus-wide significance. The deans of the college are also on this committee which functions mainly in connection with the Administration Committee of the college.

CONDUCT COMMITTEE: John Beeler, Elizabeth Weiglein, Art Smith.

COMMITTEES

The Educational Affairs Committee works with the college faculty and administration through conferring and making recommendations concerning matters of educational policy with particular consideration for academic affairs.

EDUCATIONAL AFFAIRS COMMITTEE: Brooks Jones, Elliott Kawadler, Evelyn Rogers.

The National Student Association Committee exists so long as the Community Council retains its membership in the West Virginia Region of the United States National Student Association. Its duties are set forth in the Constitution of the West Virginia Region, U. S. N. S. A. Barbara Clark represented Wesleyan at the national meeting of the NSA in Illinois this year.

NATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION COMMITTEE: Mike Stepanian, Barbara Clark, Hezel Gacutan.

COMMITTEES

INTRAMURALS COMMITTEE: Bill Clawson and Joe Lore.

The Intramurals Committee works with the Athletic Department of the college in arranging and scheduling a well-rounded athletic program for Wesleyan men who do not participate in the varsity sports.

The Special Activities Committee is vital to the social life of the campus since its main functions are to plan and to coordinate the activities of Homecoming and May Day weekends in addition to other campus activities of the year. Especially in October and May, committee members are busy taking care of "queens and courts," decorating the gym, and generally insuring the success of these two social highlights.

Class Officers

Elected officers of each class lead and direct the affairs of the four classes throughout the school year. These chosen leaders are mostly responsible for class social activities and projects.

JUNIOR OFFICERS: John Hodge, president; Phyllis Keene, secretary; Lynn Westfall, vice-president; Norman Kamp, treasurer.

House Governing Boards

The activity and discipline in each of the seven college residence halls is directed by four house boards. The students on these house boards are elected by the residents of their respective halls. In the course of the year, the boards provide dormitory parties and work out solutions to the problems that arise in college living. Were it not for these responsible and able members, many situations would go unattended, at the expense of the college in general.

ORGANIZATIONS

The scope of activities provided by Wesleyan's many and varied organizations ranges from singing in the a cappella choir to discussing the recent trends and views in psychology. Planning details of programs, making endless phone calls and spontaneous decisions, and manipulating homework into a schedule where an organization sometimes holds precedence, are but a few of the "behind the scenes" duties that participation in an organization requires. However, the feeling of satisfaction when another issue of the Pharos goes to press or when the hard work on "Our Town" results in success compensates for the time and energy invested.

"Next week we've got to get organized!" This saying, from the nebbishes, illustrates the theme of the 1960 MURMURMONTIS staff. Working in cramped space occupied by too few typewriters and too many tables, this year's staff members received considerable practice in burning the midnight oil. Though the cooperation and spirit of the staff have been good, the new size and content of the book created many and different problems. By working out conflicting viewpoints, staff members learn that it takes not only hard work, but also cooperation and patience to complete a good yearbook successfully.

BUSINESS STAFF: Pat Schenerlein, Becky Broughton, Lynn Westfall, business manager.

PHAROS

The Pharos staff, working for the first time this year on a weekly basis and under a new system of alternating editors, has increased in size from five to twenty members. The student edited newspaper is a great influence on campus; contributing factors this year were the many controversial letters to the editors and the survey concerning a new SCOW. This year the Pharos sponsored a contest to select the best-dressed girl on campus and a special literary contest issue written by Wesleyan students. Thursday nights found members of the Pharos staff hard at work turning out an improved newspaper to better serve the Wesleyan community.

GENERAL STAFF: Carole Arena, Barbara Hutchison, Bob Smith, Janice Cline, Dick Morrison, Tony Barbetta, Weller Lewis, Don Hart.

Alpha Psi Omega

The Alpha Rho cast of the national honorary dramatics fraternity has been active in furthering dramatic efforts on Wesleyan's campus this year. Members of the Playshop are eligible for election when they have given evidence of superior ability and when they have earned sufficient points for an invitation to membership. "You Can't Take It With You" and "Our Town" were their two productions this year.

Playshop

The production of "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder was presented in Atkinson Chapel this fall under the direction of Mrs. Richard Norvell, Playshop advisor. Short assembly programs both at the college and at area high schools represent some of the programs which were prepared and presented by the thespians. Playshop membership is comprised of students interested in working with drama, acting, directing, backstage crew work, make-up, costuming, and properties. Active members are eligible for membership in Alpha Psi Omega.

Betty Lamp Club

Student Art Guild

Under the guidance of the two new faculty members in the fine arts department this year, the Student Art Guild continued its major activity of enriching the appreciation of the fine arts for the members of the college community. Cooperating with the music and dramatics departments, the Guild was responsible for the construction and painting of the properties for the various stage productions originating on the Atkinson stage. Another project which was continued was the exhibiting of "The Masterpiece of the Week," an original art production by one of the art students.

The campus organization of pre-home demonstration agents, and pre-home-ec teachers is known as the Betty Lamp Club. The club, composed of home economics majors and minors provides a number of activities for the students in the department as well as practical experience in home planning and management. The Waffle Breakfast has become an all-campus affairs sponsored by this group. The cuisine group on Wesleyan's campus finds its organization to be especially helpful in meeting the needs of their future lives.

Chrisman Club

The newest honorary society on Wesleyan's campus, the Chrisman Club, is still in its embryonic stage. With only four members out of the proposed quota of ten the club promises to further fine literary tastes amongst upperclassmen.

Haught Literary Society

The Society is composed of 16 girls selected from the sophomore, junior, senior classes who are interested in the literary and fine arts. Haught Literary Society, named in honor of Dr. Thomas W. Haught, was founded in 1924. The group seeks to further literary interests within the society and on the campus through weekly programs, activities and projects.

Debate Society

The Debate Society, newly organized this year is under the direction of Professor William C. Seifrit. Benefits to be derived from debating are intellectual, social and personal. Intellectual benefits are gained through analysis and research on important national and international problems, social through meeting other students, and personal through learning to speak well, doing well at a difficult task, and competing in intelligence with others. The debate team traveled to Pittsburgh where they participated in an intercollegiate tournament in the earlier part of the year. They also competed in non-decision debates at Fairmont State Teacher's College and West Virginia University.

Sociology Club

The Sociology Club is composed of those students interested in the field of sociology. A dinner-meeting is held once a month at which time seminar compositions and other papers pertaining to sociology are discussed. An interesting case study on criminology was made this year under the direction of the advisor, Dr. Florence Schaper. A field trip every year is also enjoyed by the members of this organization.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB — Row One, L to R: Boger, Pearson, Albert, Shuttleworth, Fraser, Calich; Row Two: Hardman, Ambrose, Smith, Frosch, Scherer, McBrayer, Minnich.

Beta Beta Beta

Tri-Beta, national honorary biological society, emphasizes sound scholarship, dissemination of scientific knowledge, and the promotion of biological research. Field trips and special lectures are among its several activities.

Benzene Ring

As the oldest campus honorary, Benzene Ring conducts a program to benefit Chemistry students. The crowning of the Camphor King at the annual Strawberry Breakfast is the outstanding event of the year.

BENZENE RING: Tobey, Dalton, Rader, Hartman, Cupples, Nicholson, Powell; Row two: Colvin, Miller, Wolfe, Broderick, Brooks, Echols, Rose, Cottrill, Willis, Eppley; Third row: Rabatin, Gould, Bonar, Tracy.

Women's Recreation Association

The Women's Recreation Association, organization for enhancing and promoting interest in women's sports, provides a wide range of activity for its members. In addition to providing an opportunity for participation in women's athletics, WRA annually sponsors dances, skating parties, and other events which not only prove enjoyable for the members but which serve to maintain the physical and social well-being of the individual participants.

Delta Psi Kappa

The national honorary physical education society for women, Delta Psi Kappa, had an active and worthwhile year on Wesleyan's campus. The main activity initiated by the group early in the year was the women's intramural program including volleyball, basketball, hockey, and softball conducted on a competitive basis for both Greeks and independents. The stimulation of campus-wide interest in this program has resulted in one of the most successful years in women's intramural sports. Still another service performed by the members of this honorary is the distribution of programs at campus ball games.

Student National Education Association

The Student National Education Association is a student affiliate organization of the National Education Association for educators of all levels. The SNEA provides its members with opportunities to observe teachers in the public schools in action in real classroom situations. These future teachers also sponsor a special campus display during such educational observances as American Education Week.

The local DeMolay chapter enables its members to maintain an interest and to carry on the work of the organization while away from the home chapter. A service organization, DeMolay is comparable to the Masonic order for men.

De Molay

Ministerial Students

Contributing to religious emphasis on campus and in surrounding communities this year were the 108 ministerial students, twenty-eight of whom served as student pastors in nearby churches in preparation for the ministry.

Directing the religious life at Wesleyan for the first time was the newly created Religious Life Council. Under the leadership of Chaplain Davis, this large committee provided inspiring religious emphasis for the Wesleyan community.

Reverend Davis conducts chapel services.

Methodist Student Movement

The Methodist Student Movement, coordinated by the M.S.M. Council, organizes and sponsors functions for the entire campus community but developed primarily around the Methodist Church. The theme variation of the morning programs, the quiet meditation of vespers on Thursday evening, the recreation of the Sunday evening programs, the traveling student fellowship teams—these are the components of M.S.M.

Hillel Society

HILLEL SOCIETY: Gurson, Kawadler, Hans.

RELIGIOUS LIFE at Wesleyan is particularly emphasized in six separate student organizations.

Hillel Society is the organization for students of Jewish Faith attending Wesleyan. Sabbath Eve services in Brown Chapel are a part of its program.

The Newman Club, sponsored by the Buckhannon Church of St. Joseph, is the organization for students of the Catholic Faith. Under the direction of Father Murray, the club meets each Tuesday for services and fulfillment of its three functions: religious, cultural, and social.

Canterbury Club is composed of all Episcopalian students on campus. The main emphasis of this group is to supplement the campus life with not only religious activities, but activities which are found to be basic in our culture.

Newman Club

NEWMAN CLUB: Timko, Salata, Koblan, Schork, Baily, Emery, Parrilla; Row two: Carroll, Schwendeman, Lesko, Backode, R. Tucci, Machenberg.

Canterbury Club

CANTERBURY CLUB—Row one: Sosenheimer, Alberts, Moser, Pause, Dent; Row two: Kibbe, Sessions, Hall, Dunbar, Edwards.

Hyma Glee Club

The Wesleyaires, the resultant combination of two male quartets with some additions and replacements, enjoys a flexibility which is almost impossible to attain in a larger vocal ensemble. Having played a lead role in a minstrel presented by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, the men's octet has rapidly taken its place in the musical environment of Wesleyan. The Wesleyaires performed at various local civic and business functions and organizations, provided entertainment for a number of school activities, and sang as a special ensemble with the choir in chapel services.

Under the direction of Professor Bobby Loftis, the Hyma Glee Club is again meeting the musical needs of those men who enjoy singing in a purely male ensemble. Providing music for such important events on campus as the annual Christmas tree-lighting ceremony, the glee club performs works ranging from light popular selections to classical and religious works. The glee club annually presents an assembly program before the school as the climax to its year's work.

Wesleyan Band

The Wesleyan Band, appearing for the first time under the direction of Owen L. West, spent a busy year preparing and presenting half-time shows and concerts.

The musicians presented an assembly Christmas concert December 17, the winter concert February 29, and an outdoor concert May Day weekend.

With forty-five members, the marching band presented four original shows at Wesleyan football games here and in Clarksburg: HALF-TIME IN BLUE, SALUTE TO THE 49th and 50th STATES, AROUND THE WORLD, and MUSIC, MUSIC, MUSIC.

The student director of the band is Ed Sepulveda. Carol Jean Doughton is head majorette of the ten majorettes and sponsors.

The Bobcat musicians play a salute to our 49th and 50th states, Hawaii and Alaska.

Brass Ensemble

One of the newest organizations to emerge from the music department is the Brass Ensemble. Organized this year for the first time, the ensemble performs primarily music of the Renaissance, Baroque, and Classical periods, much of which is written for the brass ensemble. During the year, the group participated in campus student recitals, provided entertainment for civic and business organizations in the town, and played Christmas carols at the Christmas tree-lighting ceremony.

Collegians

Adding to their already brilliant dance-band career, the Collegians found themselves with another year crowded with engagements not only in Buckhannon but in the surrounding area as well. In addition to their regular full calendar of dances the band found time to provide music for a minstrel sponsored by local civic groups.

COLLEGIANS—Row one, L to R: Maberry, Hymes, Newton; Row two: Ross, Johansen, Alper, Vermeulen, Brooks.

M.E.N.C.

The Music Educators' National Conference is an organization of majors and minors in music and music education. The primary purpose of the group is to observe and study the teaching of music in actual situations. One of the projects of the M.E.N.C. is the visitation of the local public schools in order to receive information first-hand concerning music education. Critical discussion groups are then conducted in an effort to achieve a better insight into successful teaching methods in the various phases of music education.

American Guild of Organists

Such terms as pedal couplers, 8 foot diapson, tremolo, and swell to great may be meaningless, even to the average musician, but to the members of the local chapter of the American Guild of Organists, they are highly significant terms of organ registration. The A.G.O., composed of music students interested in the study and appreciation of organ music, does much toward the development of this type of culture for its members. The activities of the group include the discussion and criticism of both faculty and guest organists in recitals, learning the fundamentals of the instrument itself, taking trips to attend organ concerts, and in general providing a cultural background for the study of the organ.

Chamber Orchestra

The Chamber Orchestra, directed by Dr. C. Buell Agey, participates in chapel programs, area high school programs, and other campus activities. In December, it collaborated with other members of the music department in Gian Carlo Menotti's Amahl and the Night Visitors. Last spring, it provided the music for the department production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's Carousel.

The purpose of the Chamber Orchestra is to provide opportunity for the study and performance of serious orchestral literature. The members meet twice weekly and earn lower or upper level credit.

A Cappella Choir

Choir members sight-read a difficult piece of tour music.

Choir accompanist, Nancy Holmberg, has a whole orchestra at her fingertips at the new Loar Hall organ.

Completing one of the most successful years in its long history, the A Cappella Choir served as the choral group for the weekly chapel programs, in addition to several performances off the campus. The most important of these off-campus program series was the annual spring tour, this year covering states of the eastern seaboard. The tour, beginning on March 16 and ending on March 24, included performances in high schools and Methodist churches in the areas of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, and Boston. The eight day tour, extending over three days of classes and five days of spring vacation for a total of seventeen performances, was the result of hard work in special rehearsal sessions beginning in the last week of January and lasting until the last Bon Voyage on Wednesday morning, March 16. The choir also presented a concert of religious music on February 21 at the First Methodist Church in Clarksburg.

The novel ideas, techniques, and spirit of a new director, Miss Irma Helen Hopkins, served to spark the choir into the fulfilling of its rigorous schedule this year. Miss Hopkins, coming to Wesleyan in the fall of 1958, is a native of Texarkana, Arkansas, and a graduate of George Peabody College. Her talents range from a clear soprano solo voice to a mastery of the violin.

A Cappella Choir

As the result of its performance during the spring of 1959 at the Carnegie Music Hall in Pittsburgh, the A Cappella Choir of West Virginia Wesleyan was invited to perform a second concert on April 10 of this year. The concert featured the Music Hall organist, Marshall Bidwell, at the console as special choir accompanist. Alternating between organ and choir selections, the concert was carried on one of the Pittsburgh radio stations.

Besides their common bond of a deep appreciation for good choral music, the spirit of the choir was further enhanced by an afternoon outing and picnic at Audra State Park early in the school year and an all-choir banquet in the Colonial Room of Jenkins Hall culminating the events of the first semester.

Choir members spend the first months of 1960 preparing for the Northeastern tour.

GREEKS

The sentimental atmosphere of serenades, the mad whirl of pledging, and the good friendships of fraternity brothers or sisters make our national Greek societies well worth their existence on Wesleyan's campus. Though Greek affiliation isn't a requisite for a satisfactory scholastic and social life at Wesleyan, it is an important influence on campus. Their many benefits place fraternities and sororities high on the Wesleyan list for a well-rounded student.

Because of the new fraternity houses this year, Greek status has been raised. Fraternity houses provide unequaled opportunities for close brotherhood.

Alpha Gamma Delta

ALPHA OMICRON CHAPTER

Alpha Omicron Chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta was established on this campus in 1948 and nationally in 1904. There are 83 chapters and 35,000 members. Officers are Bette K. Catlin, president; Patricia Ambrose, vice-president; Elizabeth Weiglein, secretary; and Brenda McKibben, treasurer. Activities for the year included an initiation banquet, card party, date party, pledge party, and a pledge dance. The group also sponsors a Christmas party for some of the children in Buckhannon.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

PHI KAPPA CHAPTER . .

Phi Kappa Chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon is the newest national fraternity on Wesleyan's campus. On May 8, 1959, the group received their charter. The Phi Sig's received honorable mention for their float entry in the Homecoming Parade. Nationally, Phi Sigma Epsilon was founded in 1910. It was established at Wesleyan in 1952 as a local fraternity. The officers are as follows: Clare Edman, president; Robert McBride, vice-president; Clarence Wright, secretary; and Roy Payton, treasurer. Some of the activities for the chapter included the annual bowling party, a Black Widow Ball, and the Spring Formal. A scholarship trophy was retired by the chapter after having won it for three consecutive semesters.

Traditions

"It is . . . a small college, and there are those who love it."
DANIEL WEBSTER

The story of Wesleyan is a colorful one beginning with West Virginia Conference Seminary in 1890. During these seventy years, Wesleyan has come to be a vital force in education and has enriched the lives of thousands who have helped make our Alma Mater a living institution and established many of the traditions we cherish today. Founders' Day, homecoming, the Christmas tree-lighting ceremony, the spontaneous snowball fight, the stroll down senior walk, the band's rendition of "Here's to Old Wesleyan," the May Sing—these and many more will long stand out in memories of Wesleyan.

May Weekend

The highlight of Wesleyan spring traditions is the annual May Weekend the first Friday and Saturday in May. The two-day festivities are topped by the May Sing and the all-campus dance.

Queen Mary Lou Hetz and her attendants, Carol Simons, senior; Bette Kae Catlin, junior; Phyllis Keene, sophomore; and Ginny Griffin, freshman, reigned over Le Printemps Chanson weekend of spring 1959.

The most anticipated event, the May Sing, was the product of many hours of song practices and musical aspirations as the Greeks and independents prepared to compete in the contest.

Independent Women were awarded the first place trophy at the conclusion of the sing for their presentations of A Wonderful Guy and In the Still of the Night, while their director, Mary Margaret Woodell, captured the honor of Best Director Theta Chi fraternity placed second in the sing.

Her Majesty proceeds to the throne to be crowned Queen of the May.

May Weekend

Highlighting the May Sing program was the crowning of Mary Lou Hetz, Art major from Fairview, Pennsylvania. Flower girls, crownbearer, attendants, and queen-elect Mary Lou approached the throne as the orchestra played the Coronation March and the May Pole dancers formed an archway. Community Council President, Jim Scott, crowned Mary Lou Queen of the May and wished her a happy reign. Continuing the May theme, senior girls danced the traditional May Pole dance to Country Gardens.

Students, staff, and visitors enjoy the picnic.

GRADUATION

The casual approach is Wesleyan's.

The swish of gowns and the dignified shuffle signify the beginning of the Baccalaureate Procession.

The four days of graduation week were crowded with the foreclosing of four years of Wesleyan student life. Saturday evening the seniors gathered in the new Edna Jenkins Hall for Women to hear the Rev. Dr. Ross Culpepper deliver the after-dinner address. Sunday morning evolved as a warm May morning accentuated by the excitement of the coming drama and reward of graduation.

The President's Tea follows the casual and friendly standard of Wesleyan.

The seniors listen to President Martin as he adds a serious note to the occasion.

The seniors are prepared to begin their final hour at Wesleyan.

The traditional procession into Atkinson Chapel preceded the baccalaureate service. On Monday the weather had cooled and the faculty, parents, and friends gathered with the seniors for a mid-day picnic beneath the trees near Agnes Howard Hall. The rest of the day was spent in small groups guided by the reminiscences and thoughts of the outgoing senior, exploring campus and Audra for the last time.

The three preceding hot days had provided ideal conditions for a light rain which stopped mid-point during the commencement services. Dr. Elvis Starr, President of West Virginia University, gave the commencement address to the new graduates and the pride-warmed parents and friends. The rain stopped and the sun gave an appropriate welcome to the class of 1959.

The pride and congratulations of parents and friends end the four student years on Wesleyan's campus.

Freshman Week

There must be an easier way of getting into the girls' dorm.

A few days before the freshmen arrived the faculty met at nearby Jackson's Mill for a faculty retreat and conference. The addition of 23 members to the faculty and staff gave life to the meeting in that old and new acquaintances were made and renewed by the faculty and staff members.

On Friday the parents, baggage, curiosity, and forebodings arrived with the freshmen. In the afternoon parents and dazed freshmen met in Atkinson Chapel for the Freshman Convocation.

Professors enjoy the calm before the storm.

It must be interesting.

At the freshman reception the long faculty receiving line gave assurance on that night to the wary and bewildered student. The next day freshmen slaved in the heat of late September through their entrance exams. The evening brought relief with an informal party. Church on Sunday morning and a recreation period during the warm afternoon kept the homesick frosh busy. Monday resumed the freshman exams. The schedules for courses were completely confused with the newcomers and the faculty members scheduling classes. Tuesday the upperclassmen swarmed back and the last of the freshman exams were finished. So was the 1959 Freshman Week.

Only the beginning for parents and students.

The Wesleyan counterpart of Hunkering:

Homecoming Weekend

Kai Winding jazz was well received as a special Homecoming event.

KA's won first place in Wesleyantics.

The Homecoming crowd and court members stood for the "Star Spangled Banner" before the kick-off.

Float production was the order for the weekend.

Queen and court received flowers at the coronation.

President and Mrs. Martin participated in the annual parade.

Spirit was aroused at the Bonfire thuse.

One of the most obvious features of Wesleyan's campus during a certain special weekend in mid-October is the many yellow chrysanthemums which are worn to all the events of the exciting Homecoming weekend. Sold by the cheerleaders, the mums are but one of the characteristics known by students and alumni who participate in this annual affair which is the highlight of the fall season.

This year, a series of new events over the four day period were introduced in addition to the familiar Wesleyantics, parade, barbecue, coronation, and dance. A concert by the Kai Winding Septet inaugurated Homecoming events. Miss Kay Rider, a 1958 graduate of Wesleyan, presented a Sunday afternoon vocal concert for her alma mater. The coronation of Homecoming Queen Nadine Schaffer was, for the first time, held on Ross Field on Saturday morning before the game. The big contest with Glenville State College and the annual Homecoming meeting of the Board of Trustees culminated the weekend.

First place for house decorations was awarded to Theta Chi.

Mrs. Parker aids the Kappa Sigma Kappas at their open house.

Homecoming Weekend

With all campus organizations and especially the Greeks eager to welcome alumni members, numerous open house receptions were well attended by students, faculty, and visitors after Wesleyan's win over Glenville on Saturday afternoon. The floats were soon dismantled, house decorations were taken down, and the campus prepared for the Homecoming Formal. Midnight found a tired but happy college community returning to rooms and dormitories having completed Homecoming 1960.

Both students and alumni attended the annual Homecoming Dance and enjoyed the music supplied by the McCoy Brothers.

CHRISTMAS

It really was a huge tree!

That gym really underwent a pleasant change.

The back door was used that week.

The soft angelic voices with those candles!

The week preceding Christmas vacation acted as a breath of warm wind blown from the ocean which served to lighten the scholastic atmosphere that had burdened the student. The Christmas Dance on Saturday was dominated by a large evergreen tree which acted as a beacon to the warm hearts which revolved around it. The annual Christmas door decoration contest was won by a new door on campus at the Theta Chi House.

The Music Department offered the one act opera, Amahl and the Night Visitors. The evening of that Sunday before vacation the Pan-Hellenic and the Interfraternity Councils serenaded the campus guided by the soft lights of candles. The carolers led the student body to the lighting of the huge tree in the middle of the campus. President Martin touched the button that warmed the Christmas tree with the multi-colored bulbs. In the midst of this frivolity and gaiety the Kris Kringle Kraft Klub sincerely presented a new light upon drab lives of many of the poor children of Buckhannon. Such is the combination of humility and conscience which Wesleyan combines with the joy and fun of the campus Christmas celebration.

Could that fellow be jealous of Santa?

It was crowded but the refreshments were good.

"Peace on Earth and Good will to men."

The popular American opera by Gian-Carlo Menotti, Amahl and the Night Visitors, has become a part of the Christmas tradition in the United States. This year, on the afternoon of Sunday, December 13, this traditional Christmas story in opera form was presented at Wesleyan by the department of music. Amahl, under the direction of Miss Irma Helen Hopkins, was the result of the combined efforts of the college orchestra, and soloists and chorus selected from membership of the a cappella choir. This opera in one act replaced the annual choir presentation of some great choral work appropriate to the season. Amahl and the Night Visitors, a touching story of the first Christmas Eve, has been produced by the NBC Opera Company annually for the past ten years for its nationwide television audience.

The story centers around the life of a little crippled boy, Amahl. The visit of the three kings to the hut of Amahl and his impoverished mother is one of the most exciting events in the life of a small country boy, his mother, and their shepherd friends. Being completely overcome with the richness and splendor of the gifts which the kings are carrying to the Christ Child, Amahl's mother, while the kings are asleep, tries to take some of the gold for her son. She is discovered by the servant of the kings, who tries to force her to give up the gold. Amahl, eager to protect his mother, offers to send his only possession, his self-made crutch, to the Child in recompense for his mother's deed. In giving up his crutch the boy is miraculously healed. Joyously Amahl accompanies the kings on their journey and delivers his gift to the Christ Child.

Wesleyan Abroad

Twenty-two students and teachers comprised the "Wesleyan group" for an educational trip to Europe during the summer of 1959. The participants received six hours of upper-level college credit. The Wesleyan students included David Plate, George Lantz, Denton Covert, Kleber Gregory, Betty Kae Hannifan, Rebecca Post, William Johnston, and Nancy Funk. The countries visited were England, Belgium, Luxembourg, Germany, Austria, Liechtenstein, Switzerland, Italy, Monaco, and France.

Members of the group learned to appreciate their own homes and many found the trip helpful in planning for future sojourns in the lands of much history and culture. Many felt that they could not choose one place as their favorite, but wanted to go back to several places and also stop at many new ones.

Especially memorable were the many cathedrals that were magnificent symbols of devotion and loyalty to God. In Geneva, a Protestant Memorial reminded the group that this had been the pulpit for many great men. In Venice, the experience of rowing downtown delighted those who were bored by driving. The trip was educational for all; new customs were learned, new people were met, and a new understanding was had of a different way of life. The memories of this first Wesleyan tour will not soon be forgotten.

Dear Jane:

I can't tell you how much of a pleasure it was to judge your pretty contestants.

It was a difficult decision to make as I'd really like to call each girl a winner. However, I was finally able to choose Nancy as the Murmurmontis Queen. As runners-up, Ginger and Barbara.

I'd like to congratulate all of the candidates and wish them all the luck and success in the future. Warmest wishes to you and the entire Wesleyan staff.

Sincerely,

Captain Gene Brown waits for the toss to decide who gets the ball.

Three weeks of hard practice under a blazing sun resulted in the preparation of the finest Bobcat gridiron squad in several seasons.

Wesleyan began the season with a thrilling 13-12 victory over Potomac State. William Wood and Fay Slaughter scored TD's for the Bobcats. Sam Gross's P.A.T. after Wood's touchdown was the deciding point.

Wesleyan trounced Bethany in their second outing of the season in a sweltering day game at Bethany. Ron Aluicci, substituting for injured Jim Hawkins, scored his first touchdown of the season for the first tally. Both Bartek and Grass threw touchdown passes as Gene Rall and Chess Mearns trotted across the goal line. Fay Slaughter went for his second touchdown of the season in the second quarter of the game.

Sam Gross' punt is blocked by D&E.

Bernie Bartek

Quarterback

The finest game of the season saw Wesleyan lose to an outrushed Fairmont team 7-0. A scoreless first half was the scene of the best performance of the Bobcats this year. An early Wesleyan march to the 6-yard line was stifled by a 15-yard clipping penalty. Ed Helminski of Fairmont made the lone score on a three-yard run.

The Bobcats lost game number two to a fighting Salem team, 7-6. The Wesleyan team outplayed Salem the first half but was unable to score. Salem scored in the first half after a fumble by Wesleyan. Late in the fourth quarter William Wood made the catch of the season as he leaped high into the air to snag a pass from Bernie Bartek.

Coach Ross, team booster Cole Potter, Assistant Coach Ellis and Athletic Publicity Director McTaggart relax after another victory.

The extra point attempt by Sam Gross failed, giving the victory to Salem. The game was later forfeited to Wesleyan after a conference investigation revealed that Salem had been using ineligible players.

Senior quarterback Bernie Bartek connected with freshman halfback William Wood for three touchdowns to give Wesleyan an undisputable Homecoming victory over the Glenville Pioneers. Sam Gross made all three extra point attempts as the Bobcats trounced Glenville 21-7. Aliucci, Kapostos, Wood, and Slaughter racked up tons of yardage behind a stone wall Wesleyan line. Coach Sam Ross picked up victory number three as the alumni cheered their hearts out.

The Bobcats ended the season with two lopsided victories. The first was against Bridgewater. A defensiveless Bridgewater team saw Ron Aluicci's plunge result in the first Wesleyan tally. William Wood dodged tacklers as he raced 22 yards for a TD shortly after Steve Kapostos had scored on a 2-yard run. Fay Slaughter closed out the game with a 1-yard plunge in the last quarter. The final score was 27-0.

Bernie Bartek closed out his college career as he tossed two long touchdown passes to William Wood and Ron Aluicci made the last points of the season as the Bobcats walloped Davis and Elkins 20-7. The fine Wesleyan defensive team reached its peak by holding the Senators to minus three yards. D & E scored on a freak play when Don Bigelow stole the ball from Sam Gross who was holding it thinking the whistle had blown. Bigelow raced 38 yards for the TD.

The conference was more evenly matched this year and the Bobcats found the going rough. After losing the opener to Ohio University, the Ellismen won 17 straight games before falling to Morris Harvey in the second encounter.

During the 17 game winning streak, the squad defeated highly rated Morris Harvey, West Virginia Tech, Georgetown, and Indiana State Teachers College of Pennsylvania.

Dave Reemsnyder's cross-country team closed a highly successful season this year, winning four contests in which they participated and placing second in the W.V.I.A.C. meet at Morgantown.

In the first meet, Wesleyan defeated Fairmont 31 to 47. John Nye and David Sipe placed first and second with times of 23:21½ and 23:37 minutes respectively. In the second meet, which took place at Fairmont, the Bobcats won 34 to 44.

The third meet saw Wesleyan again defeat Fairmont, this time the score Wesleyan 17, Fairmont 46. The top three were Nye, Sipe, and Converse.

On October 24, the team went to an invitational meet at Morgantown where it came in second.

A four-man tie for first place was the most colorful event of this 4.2 mile course. John Nye was top man for Wesleyan, placing seventh to lead the Bobcats to second place in the meet. Fay Converse placed tenth, Dave Sipe, eleventh, and Royal Wilbur, thirteenth.

The team ended its season by defeating West Virginia State. John Nye ran the course in 22:42 minutes.

And they're off at Wesleyan as Coach Ross fires the gun.

Soccer . . .

Hockey . . .

Too late, there it goes.

On November 17, Ross Field witnessed a history making event take place as the first intercollegiate soccer game was played at Wesleyan. A few weeks earlier the first intercollegiate soccer game in West Virginia was held at Fairmont between the Bobcats and the Falcons. Although Wesleyan lost both games, 3-1 and 4-3, interest mounted and the new sport was the talk of the campus. The team was coached by Dave Reemsnyder who shared the hope that soccer will soon become Wesleyan's newest varsity sport. The team requires eleven members who play four twenty-two minute quarters on a field slightly larger than a football gridiron.

Block that kick!

Where're the Bobkittens?

What a swing!

Mostly due to a late start this year, Wesleyan's hockey team played only one intercollegiate contest. Highlighting the girls' sports activities for Homecoming weekend, the Wesleyan Bobkittens cinched a perfect season record by defeating the Davis and Elkins hockey team 2-0. In addition, several hockey intramural contests were played on the local field.

Eight hockey Bobkittens, accompanied by Mrs. Martin, journeyed to Fairmont State Teachers College in November to receive pointers and coaching at the annual hockey clinic.

Golf at Wesleyan assumed a new importance during the fall as the interest and activity in golf increased among the Wesleyan students. Outside of Buckhannon the Buckhannon Country Club is a rolling nine-hole course which has a par of thirty-five. The team works out on the course almost daily and strengthens their drives, chips and putting. The balls are usually lost along the river and in the rough of the fifth hole fairway. The "roll" of the course is enough to discourage the dilettante from scarring the greens and the fairways.

The five man team led by team captain Renny Hall swung through the season with twelve losses and two wins. In spite of a mediocre season record, the team and a good number of the Wesleyan student body eagerly anticipate another golf season. The special green fee for college students helps the team gain new members. Coach Reemsnyder expects a much better season due to the new interest in golf.

Up, up, and away . . .

After four consecutive years as W.V.I.A.C. champions, the Sam Ross coached West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcat thinclads had to settle for second place behind a powerful West Virginia State track team.

Wesleyan won April victories over Concord, Davis & Elkins, and Fairmont guided by pace setter Jack Fraser, Wesleyan's finest miler. Bill Smith brought the team many points jumping the high jump, the broad jump, and running the low hurdles in the best athletic form. Ken Remley threw the discus and ran the high hurdles with Ted Waroblak. On other parts of the field John Hartley and Boyd Dotson brought honors with the shotput and Tom Hinkle reached new heights on the pole vault.

Men's Intramurals . . .

The men's intramural program at Wesleyan includes track, football, volleyball and basketball. With 16 teams participating, the Pat Moors won the football championship, and also swept the volleyball championship.

Runner-up in the football and volleyball championships was the Theta Chi team, which won the Greek League championship in both divisions.

Buck Leppla was director for the Intramural Committee, which ran its contests either on a round robin or a double elimination basis. Intramural action took place on two or three evenings each week.

Under the student direction of Sara Lou Peck, five teams competed in the winter contests for the championships and the sportsmanship trophies. Alpha Xi Delta won the volleyball championship.

Approximately one hundred Wesleyan co-eds participated in the games which were refereed by members of Delta Psi Kappa under the supervision of Miss Watt and Mrs. Martin.

The five teams participating in the intramural program were Jenkins Hall and 55 house girls, Agnes Howard Hall and 68 house girls, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Xi Delta, and Alpha Delta Pi.

CHEERLEADERS . . .

L. to R.: Carolyn Moore, Ginny Griffin, Sandy Fultineer, Nancy Miles, Peggy Forman.

A cheerleader gives moral support(?).

"Hello—Wesleyan says hello!" The Bobcat cheerleaders and an echo were evidences of Wesleyan's school spirit during the year. Under sunny skies or bright lights, in rain or snow, the varsity cheerleaders were always there to boost WVWC's teams to victory. A thuse the night before a big game or a victory rally at 3:30 a.m. for successful Bobcats were right in step with the life of a cheerleader.

New yells and new uniforms plus bright orange megaphones gave the 1959-1960 cheering squad a snappy appearance. Sandy Fultineer, head cheerleader, was always on hand to give the signals to start the cheers. The girls sold mums at Homecoming, sponsored mixers, and attended the WVIAC tournament at Charleston to add to Wesleyan's athletic program.

Homecoming finds the cheerleaders riding high.

B-O-B-C-A-T-S, bobcats, fight!

The cheerleaders open the basketball season with a bang.

Campus Life

Campus life varies slightly from year to year as new personalities, talents, and activities come to light. The European trip with Dr. Franquiz, the presentations of Carousel, You Can't Take It With You, Our Town, and the Christmas drama, Amahl and the Night Visitors, played an unforgettable part in the lives of hundreds of students during the previous year. On a smaller scale, but still important are the memorable dorm parties, campus picnics, sun-bathing, and dozens of spur-of-the-moment events that add up to campus life at Wesleyan.

With gigantic sets lending realism and costumes adding atmosphere to an already delightful story, "Carousel" by Rogers and Hammerstein was the outstanding musical production of the 1958-59 school year. Presented March 12-13 in Atkinson Chapel, "Carousel" was the result of the combined directing talents of Professor Irma Helen Hopkins in production, Dr. C. Buell Agey with the orchestra, and Professor Fern Christofel in choreography. The cast and production staff neared one hundred twenty-five with Joyce Kurzel, Jim Knorr, Sue Haynes, Dick Yates, Chuck Dent, and Judy Lampila taking leading roles. With sets, costumes, and music beautifully integrated, the Wesleyan performance needed to take a back seat to no one.

Thornton Wilder's classic drama of small town life was presented November 20 in Atkinson Chapel. Members of Alpha Psi Omega, Playshop, and other members of the Department of Drama and Speech cooperated in the presentation of the three-act play, "Our Town," which was directed by Mrs. Betty Norvell.

Science Department Activities

"Twinkle, Twinkle . . ." Dr. Willis studies the heavens.

Professor Hallem keeps custody of the new telescope.

The activities of Wesleyan science students are not limited to the classrooms and laboratories. This year the department had the advantage of a new refractory telescope purchased by the department for a future astronomy class. In the meanwhile several students and faculty members took turns at star gazing.

Bob Eppley, senior chemistry major, was crowned Camphor King at the annual Benzene Ring Breakfast held during the '59 Commencement.

Right: Dr. Willis crowns the Camphor King.

Spring Productions

Tryouts and rehearsals for the Playshop productions of Bald Soprano and Twelve Pound Look began in February of this year for spring presentation. Both one-act plays were student directed by Ray Rohrbough and Carole Jean Doughton, majors in the dramatics department.

Three hopefuls try out for parts in Twelve Pound Look.

Lucy McBrayer wins the part of the maid in Bald Soprano.

Popular Class

The Living English Class taught by Dr. Lewis Chrisman was Wesleyan's largest class and the first one to be taught in the chapel. With 131 students, Dr. Chrisman found it necessary to use a microphone for the first time. His assistant, Rosalie Abbott, checked the attendance from the balcony in the popular class on word origins.

Dr. Chrisman lectures to Wesleyan's largest class.

Miss Susann McDonald, world renowned harpist, presented a recital at the December 10 assembly sponsored by the Cultural Enrichment Committee. The program included works of Liszt, Rosetti, Tournier, and C. P. Bach. Following the recital students were invited backstage to inspect the instrument and to direct questions to Miss McDonald.

The Ambassadors Quartet, composed of four young African Methodists, presented a program of folk music, war songs, and dances at a November assembly program. Afterwards Wesleyan students applauded and complimented the Southern Rhodesia artists on their entertaining performance and unusual life.

Pastimes

Students at Wesleyan concentrate on the serious side of study and questioning thought. While the library accommodates busy classmates working on assignments, faculty members across campus engage in burdening frivolities. Could these be the same professors that advocate "Here at Wesleyan we come to learn, not to play"?

Connie Rohrbough studies in the quiet of a library carrell.

Conscientious students make good use of library facilities.

"Simon says hands up and hand on elbow. Dr. Wright, you didn't pay attention."

THE LIGHTER SIDE of WESLEYAN

Books are forgotten as students take a "breather" in the SCOW.

All that goes up must come down on the trampoline in the gym.

Right: Pizza for the hungry ones in the dorms is an every night affair.

'Hey! Don't stick my Columbia record into that small mailbox!"

The Wesleyan co-ed does not travel light.

Pals take care of the penalty for getting pinned.

"...and all through the night..."

The mad journalists
signify "operation success."

"Those clothes will get home—but will they be fit to wear?"

"Foot loose and fancy free?"

The strangest things appear in the strangest places!

Happy fans congregate at 2:00 a.m. to welcome home victorious Bobcats.

The interest in the delegates to the Vienna Youth Conference is sustained after the assembly.

The Bulletin, that tells you when you're expected at the Dean's Office, how much you owe the treasurer, etc., is passed out after chapel.

The Murmurmontis Staff works outside its scope!

"Ho, hum, the Louvre!"

The campus movie in Loar Hall is packed on a Friday evening.

The new Health Center fails to lessen the aggravation of the mandatory physical examinations.

Though in the background, Mrs. Parker is the overseer and professor of our growing Secretarial Studies Department

"My qualifications for a freshman class office are . . ."

The switchboard is the lifeline at Wesleyan College.

IN MEMORIAM

During the past eight years the person greeting visitors at the front desk in the President's office was Miss Margaret Dean. Miss Dean served as secretary to the President of the college under Dr. William Scarborough, and under Dr. Stanley Martin until her illness forced her to leave her position.

People such as Miss Margaret Dean, though often not in the center of activities, help to make the IMAGE of Wesleyan the continuing and dynamic force that it is.
